

RV Values Hold Steady

“We are solidly into winter now and large parts of the country. Although the volume of vehicles offered at auction has dropped, as we’d expect for this time of year, the values of those that were sold actually increased a little bit for both towables and motorized units. Most dealers will begin to restock their lots for the upcoming spring selling season in the next few months, so we expect prices to begin to rise.”

ed large

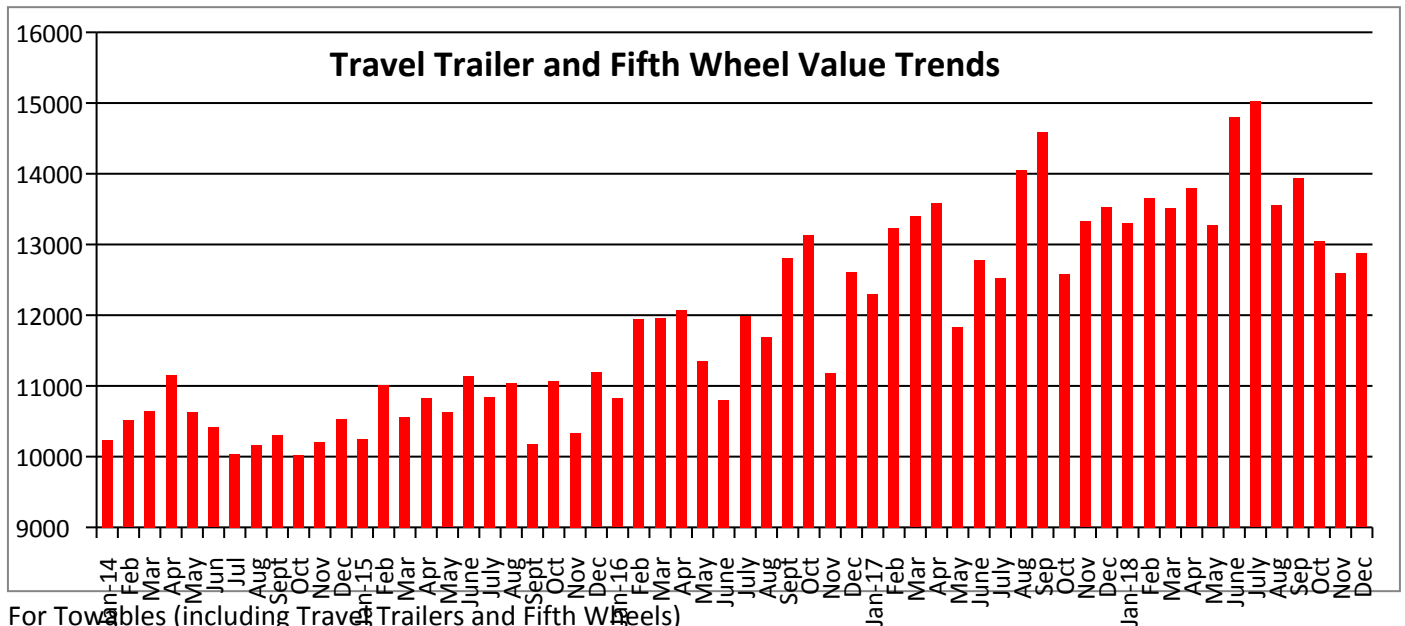

Eric Lawrence, Director of Specialty Markets

For Motor Homes (including Class A, B, and C)

- Average selling price was $43,435 up $303 (0.7%) from the previous month
- One year ago, the average selling price was $46,135
- Auction volume was down 5% from the previous month. The average model year was 2010.

For Towables (including Travel Trailers and Fifth Wheels)

- Average selling price was $12,872, up $279 (2.2%) from the previous month
- One year ago, the average selling price was $13,533
- Auction volume was down 19% from the previous month. The average model year was 2012.